NCRHA

RIT vs Michigan

"one of the most exciting games I have ever watched. A truly great display of heart and skill"

- Jason Domitrovic
StateWars Hockey

The 2006 National Championships brought the RIT Tigers and the Michigan Wolverines to Boulder, Colorado. The two teams swept the competition until they met each other in the thrilling Semi-Final game of the NCRHA (national collegiate roller hockey association) championships. The game is filled with great goaltending, highlight reel goals, and hard hits.

The two teams get into one of the great college hockey battles, testing their might against the mile high air, fatigue and some of the best college roller hockey players in the world!
